(Statement with regards to Regulation 1907/2006 – REACH)

The company PRECISION TUBES EUROPE is a manufacturer of welded stainless-steel tubes.

In terms of REACH regulation, we identify our position as the manufacture of article and downstream user. An article pursuant to the REACH-Regulation is an object to which during production is given a special shape, surface or design that determines its function to a greater degree than does its chemical composition.

For us, there is no direct requirement for any registration and especially when it concerns the stainless steel. The metals in stainless steel are not intended to be release as defined to REACH.

However, we do make the enquiries down the supply chain fully in accord with REACH regulation. This concerns all chemical and non-chemical products used during the manufacturing process.

PRECISION TUBES EUROPE obtains all products used for the manufacturing process from internationally established companies only. It can reassure you that all necessities emerged from REACH regulation will be fulfilled to maintain the supply of our products. Our suppliers have undertaken to inform us at the earliest possible date of any material that may become unavailable, giving us plenty of time to test new incoming products adequately.

We do not see any reason for concern of unavailability of our products. All information regarding the health and safety data of our product – stainless steel tubes - we will redistribute down and up the supply chain whenever possible.
